William Dvorak, Whose Theft Charges Were Dismissed, Attacked by Six Men

William Dvorak, who charged four acquaintances robbed him of $300 and his automobile at Long Beach a few days ago, and whose complaint was dismissed on Friday for lack of evidence, was severely beaten late that evening in a restaurant at 1523 Second Avenue. Six men, Dvorak said, entered the restaurant and attacked himself and a young woman companion. After the attack Dvorak required the services of a physician. Detectives arrested and charged with the assault six men. They are Frank Looney, twenty-nine years old, 306 East Eighty-sixth Street; George Schroeder, twenty-three, 186 East Eighty-sixth Street; Harry Keane, thirty-three, 166 East Seventy-eighth Street; John Mack, thirty, 1365 Third Avenue; Charles Williams, twenty-four, 256 St. Nicholas Avenue, and Edward J. Jones, thirty-four, 212 East Seventy-eighth Street. Yesterday in Yorkville Court Magistrate Marsh held the six in $1,000 bail each, on suspicion of assault.

Woman Dry Worker Held As Grandchild's Slayer

Unmarried Mother of Infant Which Disappeared Is Re- leased From Jail

ADRIAN, Mich., Aug. 20.—Alice Kirby, twenty years old, who has been held here since Thursday in connection with the disappearance of her new-born child, which has resulted in a murder charge against her mother, Mrs. Mattie Kirby, was released from custody this morning, no formal charge having been made against her. Mrs. Kirby, fifty-five years old, prominent state temperance worker, remains in the county jail here and refuses to discuss the disappearance of the child. She is to be given a hearing on the murder charge next Tuesday. Prosecutor Leland F. Bean, in ordering Miss Kirby's release, declared his action was not to be interpreted as meaning he was "freeing her of any complicity in the case." He added that she would be called as a witness when her mother's examination is held Tuesday. "There is a new angle in the case," the prosecutor said, "but I cannot discuss it now."
